The Block Kids Program is a National Blocks Building Competition through the NAWIC Education Foundation (NEF) and sponsored locally by the Greater Washington, DC Chapter of NAWIC. This program was created to bring awareness to students at a young age of all the rewarding career opportunities available to them in the construction industry. Local winners advance to a regional level and one semi-finalist from each region will move on to the national competition. Members of the construction industry judge each students project.
