

Managing Conflict Through Effective Communications

October 23, 2018 - Marriott Fairview Park, Falls Church, VA

Join the ASAMW FrontRunners for a meaningful discussion between general contractor and subcontractor panelists, as we discuss effective ways to communicate on a construction project. While profit sustains a company in the near term, it is relationships that offer long-term profit potential. Each of us have expectations, challenges, and stresses that factor into our decisions and actions. This event will delve into how we can manage conflict by communicating and understanding the factors that influence our decisions. We may discover that while we share the same goals, but we may not always recognize the needs of the other stakeholders. Once we openly communicate we can better understand each other, so that we will either prevent and/or quickly resolve future conflict.

AGENDA

SIE: 4:30pm-5:30pm

Networking: 5:30pm - 6:00pm

Dinner & Program: 6:00pm - 7:30pm

PANELISTS

Ameen Khouri, Shapiro and Duncan
Eric Masciantonio, HITT Contracting
Anna Torre-Smith, ATS Studios
Beth Winters, Whiting-Turner Contracting

DISCUSSION TOPICS

- How do you diffuse conflict?
- What obstacles have you faced when you attempted to go over someone's head to escalate an issue with more senior people?
- What Do GC's Need?
- What Do Subs Need?
- And Much More...

COST: $90 ASAMW Members/$105 Non-Members

Register Today at www.asamw.org!

Contact Ike Casey at (571) 237-7101 or ike@asamw.org with questions.